Carbon Steel is preferred for heavy usage because it is thicker (0.20mm) and a little stronger, but the blades generally rust quickly, so they are really only good for one day's use.

Stainless Steel blades are far more resistant to rust and more flexible (0.15mm), but are not quite as sharp. If you only scrape occasionally, the stainless steel is the way to go. We now offer in both packs of 10 (Green) and packs of 25 (Black) blades.

We now carry a thicker (0.20mm) stainless steel blade which is both stronger and more resistant to chipping, available in a Red pack of 25 blades.

Used Huck Towels

#1 Towel Used By Professionals

We purchase the highest and most expensive grade of blue towel available.

Step 1: We hand-sort every towel. Some towels have holes, stains, rough textures, or other blemishes. These rejects are removed, but available for sale at a discount.

Step 2: Towels are weighed. We use true weight. The weight of the box and packaging is not included. When you order 5 lbs of towels, you get 5 lbs of towels.

Step 3: Towels are packaged into their various weights. Pictured above is a 5 lb bag.

Step 4: We move them to the pick/pull area and ship them to you! We have thousands of pounds in-stock!

Bleached vs Unbleached

We order sea sponges by the thousands and, when possible, we order unbleached sponges. Most diving companies bleach their sponges lighter for the retail market because they look "prettier." This process weakens and shortens the life of sea sponges.

Metallic Ladders

The most popular combination is 6' sections with a 4' center thrown in for good measure. Base sections are flared for added stability, and slip resistant material at bottom of the base comes standard. Remember to subtract 1' for each connection. For example: 4 6' sections = 4x6' - 3x1' = 21'

WHAT IS WATERFED®?

Scrub, Rinse, That's It!

Clean Faster, Easier, and Safer with a WaterFed® system. It purifies your water like a spot-free car wash. That means that once you rinse, the water will dry spot free with no need to squeegee it off.

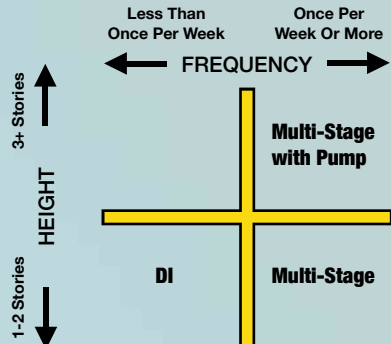

Now you can safely clean up to 6 stories without leaving the ground!

Choose A Pole

All poles are a compromise between Price, Flex, and Weight. The higher you clean, the stiffer and lighter you'll want your pole. This means using materials like Carbon Fiber, which have higher upfront cost, but are easier to use and less fatiguing.

Choose A System

How high will you be cleaning, and how frequently will you use your system? DI systems have low upfront cost, but high per gallon cost. If you will be using the system regularly, multi-stage systems will quickly pay for the high upfront cost. If you are cleaning higher than 2 to 3 stories or you want to run 2 or more poles at once, you'll want a system with a pump.

How Would You Clean A 6 Story Building?

LIFT

$100-$500 a day. Requires safety equipment. Access may be limited.

LADDER

Limited to 2 or 3 stories. Carries inherent danger of working at height. Access may be limited.

ROPE WORK

Requires specialized training and equipment.

WATERFED®

Safely clean up to six stories without leaving the ground. Scrub the glass, rinse, and move on to the next window. Up to 10x faster than ladders.

SHOULD YOU PURCHASE A DI OR MULTI-STAGE SYSTEM?

HOW HIGH WILL YOU BE CLEANING, and how frequently will you use your system? DI systems have low upfront cost, but high per gallon cost. If you will be using the system regularly, multi-stage systems will quickly pay for the high upfront cost. If you are cleaning higher than 2 to 3 stories or you want to run 2 or more poles at once, you'll want a system with a pump.

Society for Professional Rope Access Technicians (SPRAT): Safe Practices for Rope Access Work recommends carabiners have a minimum strength of 22kN (5,000 lbs).

In the absence of more applicable rope access standards, ANSI Z359.1 is a standard related to fall protection that OSHA often uses. If you are not using ANSI Z359.1 compliant carabiners, be prepared to justify that choice to OSHA inspectors.

Petzl Self Braking I'D

One of the simplest descenders on the market. If you load your rope incorrectly, the device locks up preventing use. If you panic and pull the lever too hard, the device locks up, stopping descent. The Petzl I'D is unmatched in ease of use and simplicity of set-up. Carabiner, rope, and chair sold separately.

ALL ABOUT HARNESSES

Attachment Points

Front: Commonly used for attaching fall arrest during high rise cleaning. Allows for easier self-rescue.

Back: Commonly used for attaching fall arrest during high rise cleaning or other work at height (e.g. lifts).

Side: Used in specialty applications for positioning.

Ventral (waist): Commonly used for attachment to main line, especially in rope access where a chair isn't in use.

Note that some harnesses also have shoulder attachments. These are used for confined space applications and do not normally apply to high rise cleaning.

Choosing A Harness

Application: Consider what you will be using your harness for. If you are working on a roof or in a lift, you can get away with a simple fall protection harness (back D only). For high rise window cleaning and rope access, you'll want to get a comfortable harness with multiple attachment points.

Comfort: Spending a long time in the air can be uncomfortable, especially with a cheap harness. Nicer harnesses have more padding, making them more comfortable. If you spend much time in the air, you won't regret spending the money.

Ease of Donning: A harness made of webbing can be confusing to put on. It's difficult to tell which side is up, where your arms go, etc. Harnesses with more structure are easier to put on and adjust.

ALL ABOUT ROPE GRABS

Regular

Locking mechanism can be defeated by user. User can hold onto device so that it fails to engage during fall.

Anti-Panic

Locking mechanism engages even if user panics and grabs device. Device can't be defeated by user.

Tended vs. Trailing vs. Self Parking

Tended devices must be manually moved up and down rope by user. Trailing devices follow user up and down rope with out being tended. Self Parking devices move up the rope automatically, but must be manually moved down the rope.

The polyester cover is very flexible, absorbs less water, has lower stretch, and is more abrasion-resistant than the nylon covers found on some static ropes. The polyester cover and nylon core are balanced during manufacturing to attain the ultimate in performance.

KMIII static rope is a balanced construction consisting of a continuous filament polyester cover braided over an unidirectional nylon core. KMIII is designed to meet the rigorous requirements associated with rescue and rappelling operations. KMIII is dual certified (CE & NFPA).

KMIII Max Black w/ Gold Tracer

Smoother Sheath // Better Abrasion Resistance

KMIII Max Static Rope

KMIII Max static rope is a balanced construction consisting of a continuous filament polyester twill pattern cover over a unidirectional nylon core. KMIII Max is designed to be more abrasion resistant, and to significantly reduce drag.

The polyester cover is very flexible, absorbs less water, has lower stretch, and is more abrasion resistant than the nylon covers found on some static ropes. The polyester cover and nylon core are balanced during manufacturing to attain the ultimate in performance.
